Archbishop Will Try to Reunite Polish Churches.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL

Wilkesbarre, Pa., May 4.-Word has been received here that Pope Plus has dispatched Archbishop Simon to this region, where he will make an effort to region, where he will make an effort to re-unite the independent Polish Catholic churches under the authority of Bishop Heban of the Stranton diocese.

In the last several years several of these independent churches have been formed, but several of them have had trouble in getting along. A few days ago some of the independent pricets applied to Bishop Hoban for reinstatement. He promised to give them places provided they publicly acknowledged their error and spent some time doing penance in a monastery. In view of this feeling it is not expected that Archbishop Simon will have a difficult task

Excise Commissioner Mulvihill yesterummer gardens adjoining their saloons have called on Commissioner Mulvihill recently asking as to their rights to keep their parks open and sell soft drinks. He stated yesterday afternoon in his office in the City Hall that he had told the inquiring saloonkeepers that he had no turisdiction over the sale of nonintoxicating drinks, and as long as it did not ne cessitate the opening of the saloon proper he could offer no objection. The pian, however, to place a screen in front of the bar and open the saloon bars, as was proposed by some of his visitors, was promptly voted down.

"If a saloonkeeper has a garden attachment which is accessible by other means than through the saloon I could offer no objections to his celling soft drinks on Sunday," seld Commissioner Mulvihill. "In reply to their queries on this point have told them that they are as free to to this as the drug stores, providing they secure the proper permits, with which this

LICENSE NONTRANSFERABLE Commissioner Mulvibill has decided that when a saloon license is taken out by one man it cannot be transferred to another. In other words the license becomes inoperative the moment the saloon changes In accordance with this ruling the poice have been gathering evidence against many saloonkeepers who are said to be doing business under the permit secured by another. This information has been turned over to Commissioner Mulvihill. Yesterday morning thirteen saloonkeepers were summoned to account for the difference in the management and the names Two were warned that they must secure a petition and license at once, while one of the saloons is to be closed. Most of the cases were taken under advisement to await additional evidence, as Commissioner Mulvihill says in some of the instances it is difficult to get to the real facts, because of managers being employed to conduct the saloons, although there is no exchange of property rights. who conducts a saloon at No. 300 Gever avenue, which was issued to Gus J. Kloep-Commissioner. August Reinart and Herman Koch, who it is said are operating under a permit secured by Henry Steinkams, at No. 1736 Franklin avenue, were told that they must get a new petition and license at once. The same ruling was made in the case of John Rau of No. 142 South Third street, who, according to the police, is conducting a saloon under a license issued to Jacob Isler.

The other cases taken under advisement were: George von der Burg of No. 266 Lafagette avenue, charged with operating under the license issued to Chris Clausen; William Schaefer of No. 1926 Chouteau avenue, charged with having a license given to J. Shean & Co.; G. H. Lohse of No. 282 Easton avenue, said to be keeping a saloon under a license imued to William Morpe; M. O. Longtonmer of The CD Couth Second servet, accused on
